» Energizing our Supply Chain

» Why the ISN

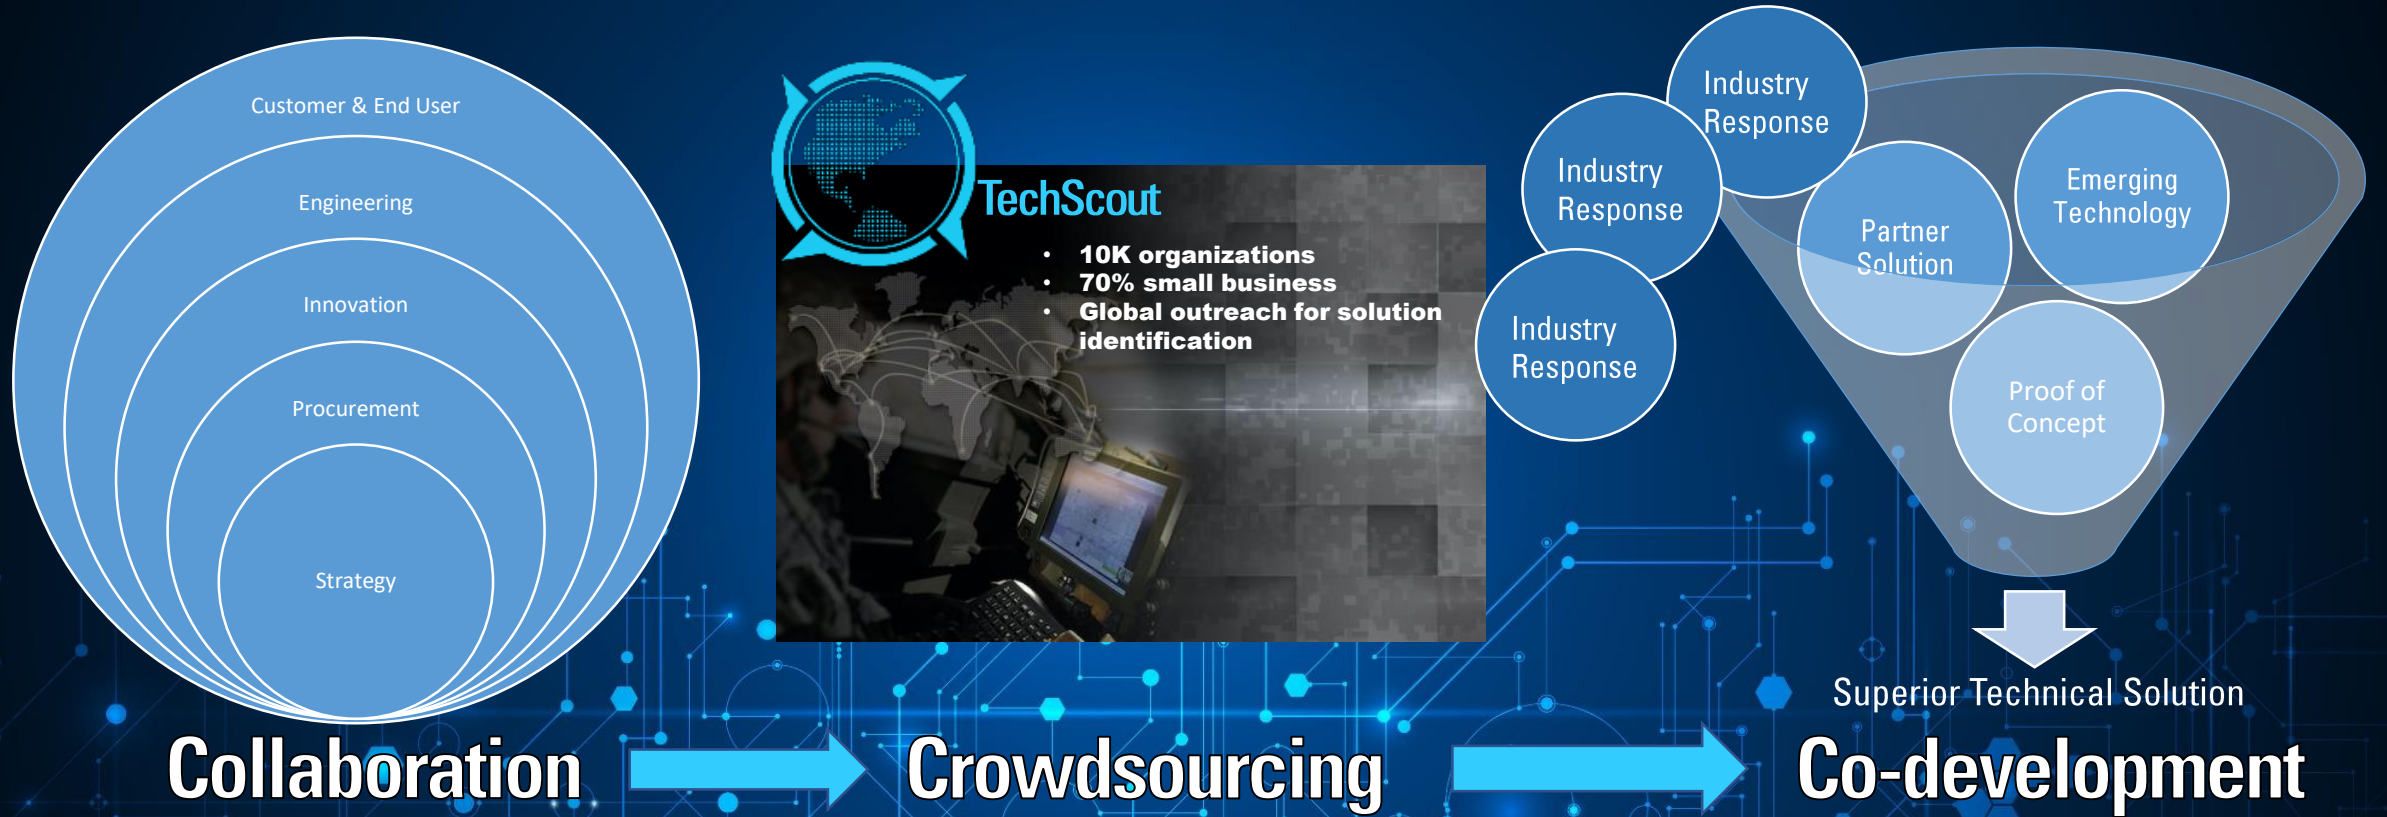

- » The Innovation Sourcing Network™ is an open supplier innovation ecosystem, promoting small business identification and participation, discovery of emerging technologies and solutions, to forge partnerships that are discriminators to advance our customers' missions.
- » The dot connector across the General Dynamics Mission Systems Enterprise level. Helping you to connect to new opportunities within the company as you become a proven, successful supplier.

» ISN Toolbox – Flexible to Fit Your Needs

- › Connecting people, processes and technologies. Delivering innovative sourcing solutions to our teams.

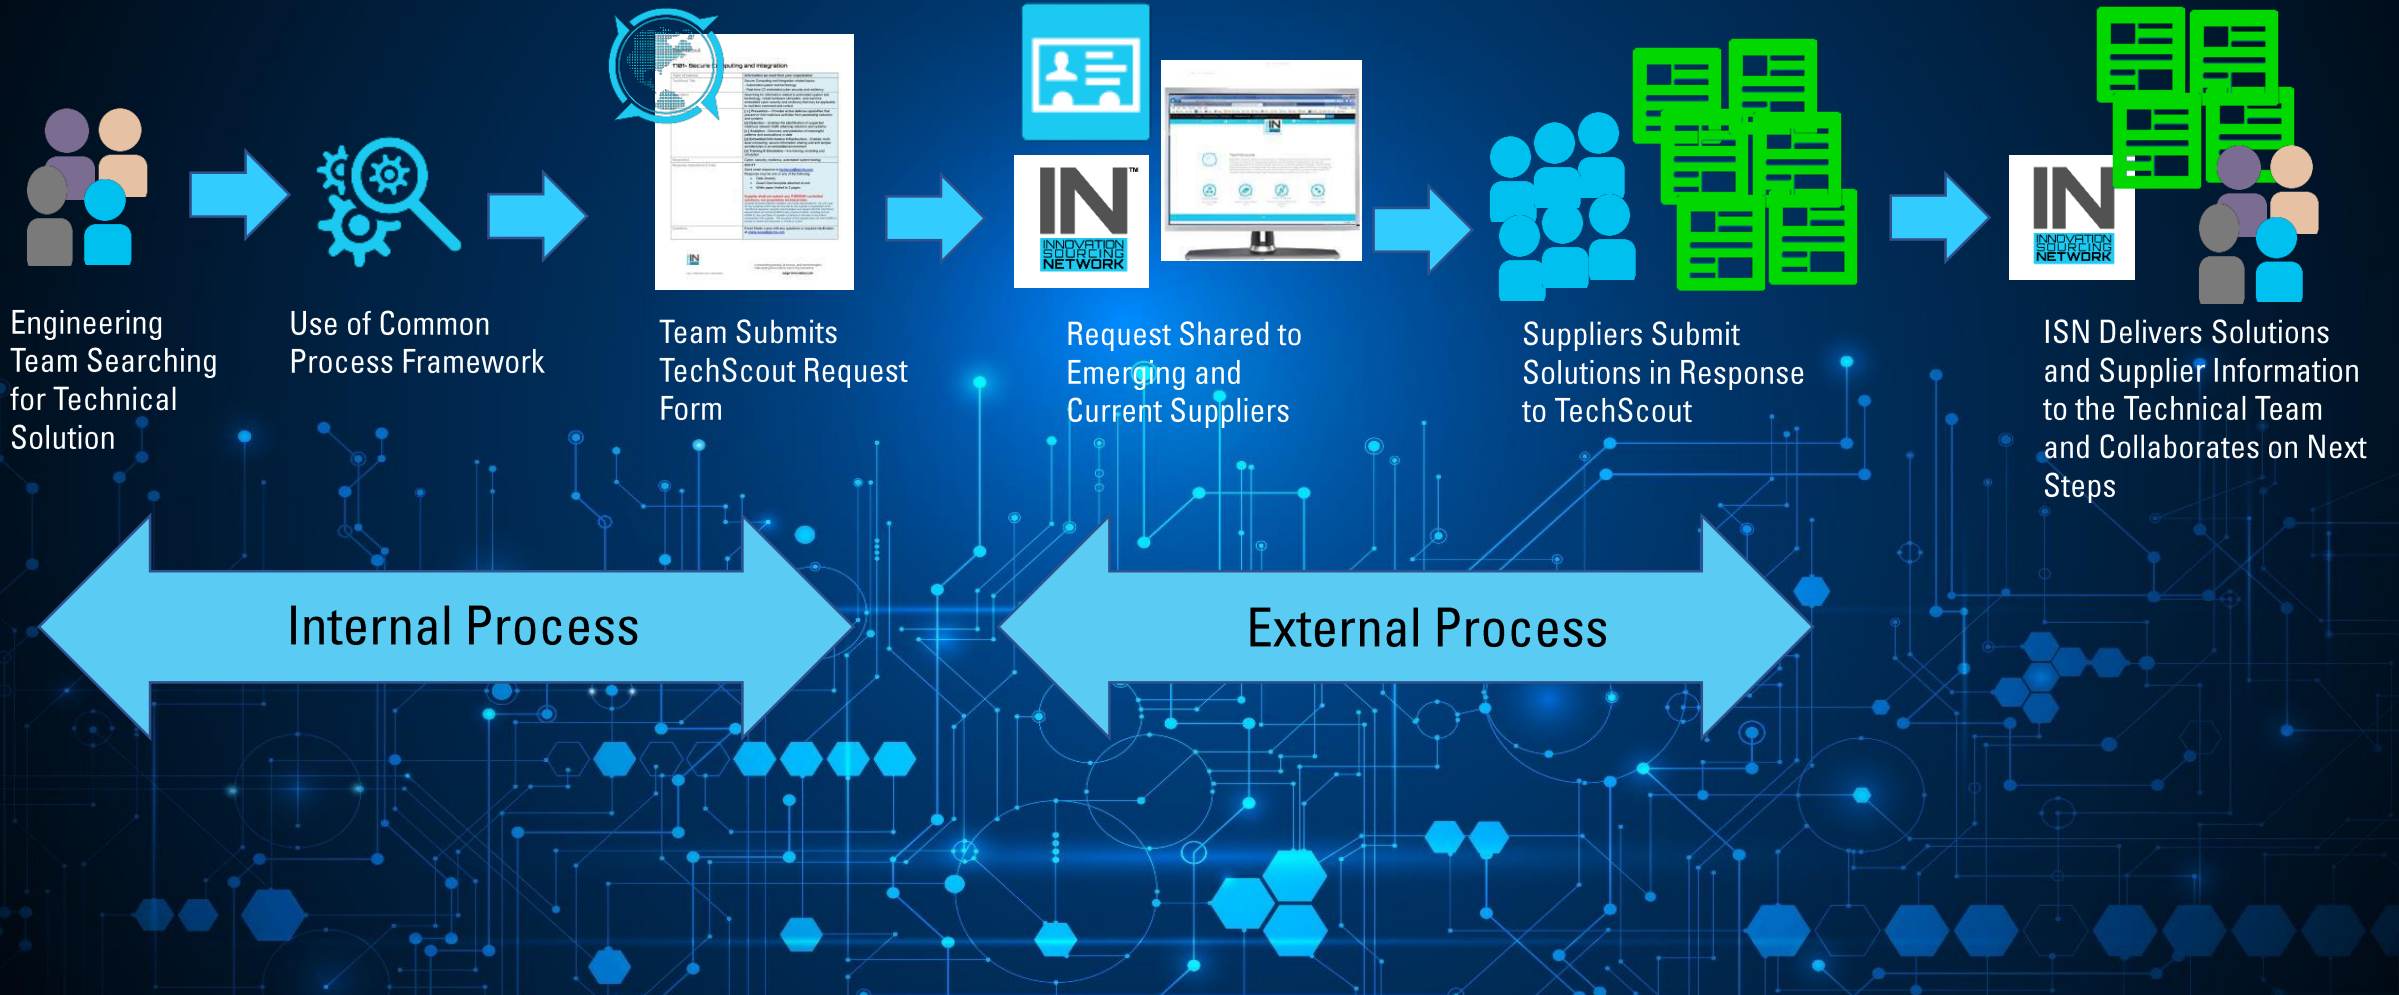

The Innovation Pipeline

ISN process of early engagement, collaboration with industry and solution identification & supplier vetting ensures technology foraging, exploration of COTS solutions and small business identification can be integrated rapidly into a holistic solution.
